

Amanda Wirsta, Mark Ference show 4-H champions

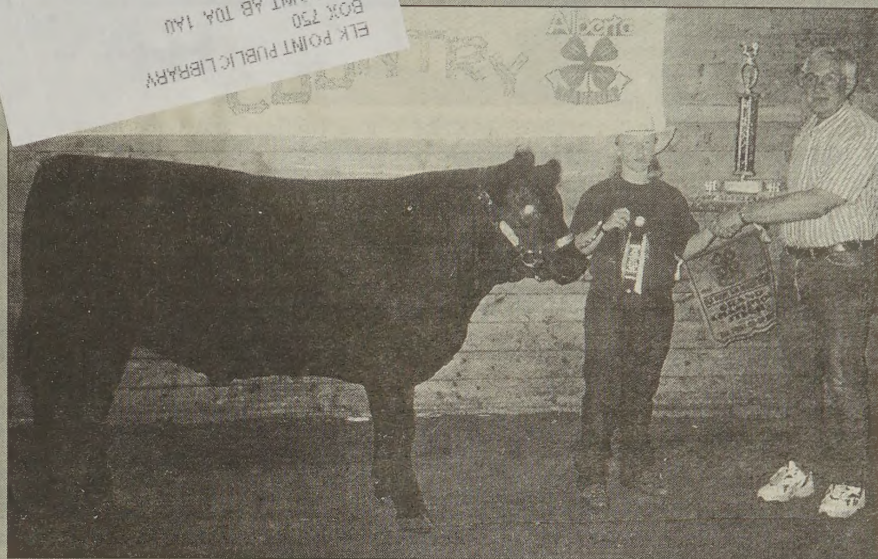

Amanda Wirsta's 1230 pound, Black Angus steer and Mark Ference's yearling Red Angus - Simmental cross heifer won top honors at Elk Point 4-H Multi Club Achievement Day last Saturday.

Amanda's steer, Desodo, led a field of 21 prime beef animals to win the Grand Championship Banner sponsored by Elk Point Co-op. Taralee Babenek showed a fine Limousin steer for the Reserve Championship, taking home a banner from Lakeland Meat Processors.

Amanda also placed first in the Senior Grooming competition which started off the show, winning the Elk Point Insurance trophy, while Peter Danyluk was second for the Gibsons Petroleum award. Grooming skills apparently run in families, because the Junior winners were Jaylynn Wirsta, first for the Home Town Grocers trophy, and Gorge Danyluk, second for another Gibsons Petroleum award. Mallory Piquette received an honorable mention in the Junior class for her outstanding efforts.

Three female classes were held, with Mark Ference winning the Heifer Conformation Class with "Duchess" to receive the Wozniak Bulk Sales trophy, and later going on to win the Supreme Female class and the Lazy H Simmentals banner with the same animal. Kyle Kurek showed the Reserve Champion Heifer to Heinsburg Class of '98 'Up where they belong'

The two young ladies, Erna Delorme and Samantha Fayant, and five young men, Shawn Anderson, Travis Bowman, Trevor Durocher, Stephen Gladue and Troy Gladue, who make up Heinsburg High School's Class of '98, were honored Friday night by families and friends at their annual farewell ceremonies at Heinsburg Community Hall.

The evening, emceed by Sandra Bishop, started off with grace by Walter Anderson and a fine banquet prepared by the community club. Stephen Gladue offered a toast to the parents, saying, "You've always been there for us," with a reply by Shirley Calliou, who said that the students' "journey toward education brought many experiences, and brought you strength for your journey to adulthood." Troy Gladue offered an original poem in tribute to the staff, with Lorne Young replying that "on the road of life, we are pleased to have had a short journey with the Class of '98."

After a brief intermission, the graduates were escorted into the hall to be introduced and to take their places on stage. Kirsten Sanders led the singing of O Canada. Samantha Fayant gave the invocation.

A very special part of each Heinsburg farewell ceremony is the passing of the school colors, decorated with an eagle feather, to a Grade 11 student. This year, Erna Delorme passed the colors to Juanita Daniels.

Brenda Bintz gave the class history, with a little surprise gift for each student as she talked about their lives, hopes and school career.

Assistant Superintendent of St. Paul Regional School Division, Carmen Brodziak, presented each student with a scroll, while County of St. Paul Reeve Ray Danyluk presented each with a pen.

MLA Paul Langevin also had a

Forts honor '97 volunteers

Fort George and Buckingham House Historic Site honored the large rank of volunteers who assisted the site in various capacities during 1997 at an Appreciation Day on Sunday, May 24.

Friends of the Forts president Pat Johnson welcomed the volunteers and said the community had made an enormous contribution to the site by the volunteer hours they have put in. "We really do appreciate your help." Site manager Slavko Nohas added that "Organizations such as ours heavily rely on volunteers. We hope that today will, in a small way, say thanks." Nohas added that "You can't put a value on your efforts. When volunteers are involved, there is an immeasurable benefit to the site."

Johnson and Nohas presented certificates of appreciation to eleven volunteers present, Gabe Bayduza, Marvin Bjornstad, Vicki Brooker, Rob Holliday, Pat Johnson, Gail Kozicky, Marjorie and Roy Scott, Rusty Williams, Ed Zaraska and Peggy Fidler-Zaraska. Other volunteers who will receive their certificates later are Harvey Aarbo, Walter Anderson, Connie Axell, Adelard Bilodeau, Guy Bouchard, Gordon Collins, Ray Danyluk, Ezra Eberhart, Marj Heffernan, Bryan Horne, Lucille Howse, Shani Jurak, Dawn and Tim Krause, Lillian Laboucane, Jeannette, Margaret and Ray Letourneau, Doreen and Frank Mayner, Grace Meger, Andrew Pearson, Eddie Poitras, Bernadette and Omer Roberts, Walter Roland, Gene Russell, Christina Sereda, Babe Sharkey, Clarence Smith, Louis Verhagen, Melvin and Vi Ward.

Thanks were also expressed to corporate members, Alberta Treasury Branches, Canadian Salt Company Limited, Elk Point Gas Limited, Elk Point Insurance and Realty, Elk Point Lioness Club, Norcen Energy Resources Limited, Shamrock Valley Enterprises and Tarsands. Special thanks went to the Town of Elk Point, who donated funds for a beautiful gas barbecue, and the Wild Rose Foundation whose grant funding went toward a new computer, printer, scanner and software for the site.

The volunteers were entertained by two of their own number, Gabe Bayduza and Rob Holliday, who played and sang "Cool Water," "The Darby Ram," "Shenandoah" and one of Rob's original numbers, "The Circuit Riding Preacher." The afternoon wound up with a buffalo burger barbecue.

The story of a life worth saving

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

There is a story told of a man who risked his life by swimming through the treacherous rip tide to save a youngster being swept out to sea. After the child recovered from the harrowing experience, he said to the man, "Thank you for saving my life." ... The man looked into the boy's eyes and said, "That's okay, kid. Just make sure your life was worth saving."

Now, didn't that take a lot of "guts" for that man to make that statement! However, when you think about it, there is a message one can learn from what he said. Basically, each one of us is responsible for making our own lives worthwhile. And.. at the same time each one of us is important and of worth.

There is another story told of a "Rescue at Sea." Years ago, in a small fishing village in Holland, a young boy taught the world about the rewards of unselfish service. Because the entire village revolved around the fishing industry, a volunteer rescue team was needed in cases of emergency. One night the winds raged, the clouds burst and a gale force storm capsized a fishing boat at sea. Stranded and in great trouble, the crew sent out the S.O.S. The captain of the rescue rowboat team sounded the alarm and the villagers assembled in the town square overlooking the bay. While the team launched their rowboat and fought their way through the wild waves, the villagers waited restlessly on the beach, holding lanterns to light the way back.

An hour later, the rescue boat reappeared through the fog and the cheering villagers ran to greet them. Falling exhausted on the sand, the volunteers reported that the rescue boat could not hold any more passengers and they had to leave one man behind. Even one more passenger would have surely capsized the rescue boat and all would have been lost.

Frantically, the captain called for another volunteer team to go after the lone survivor. Sixteen year old Hans stepped forward. His mother grabbed his arm, pleading, "Please don't go. Your father died in a shipwreck 10 years ago, and your older brother, Paul, has been lost at sea for three weeks. Hans, You are all I have left." ... Hans replied, "Mother, I have to go. What if everyone said, 'I can't go, let someone else do it?' When the call for service comes, we all need to take our turn and do our part." Hans kissed his mother, joined the team and disappeared into the night.

Another hour passed, which seemed to Hans' mother like an eternity. Finally, the rescue boat darted through the fog with Hans standing up in the bow. Cupping his hands, the captain called, "Did you find the lost man?" Barely able to contain himself, Hans excitedly yelled back, "Yes, we found him. Tell my mother it's my older brother, Paul!" ... Yes, it was a life worth saving!

National Access Awareness Week

Mayor Ed Buck has proclaimed June 1 to 7 as National Access Awareness Week in Elk Point, joining communities across the province in the effort to raise awareness of community barriers that prevent persons with disabilities from full participation in the life of Alberta's communities and society.

One of the goals of National Access Awareness Week is to promote community action to eliminate those barriers and to achieve, through partnership, community spirit and cooperation, a province that is truly accessible to all its citizens and visitors.

This year's theme is "A Time to Communicate," and has an emphasis on a campaign which seeks to replace public pay phones with ones that have built in communication devices for the deaf, the hard of hearing and those with speech impediments. Ten percent of Albertans can benefit from such adaptive technological devices.

The Pelechs in Paris — Part VII

By Sherry Pelech
World Traveller

There is a huge park in Paris called the 'Bois de Boulogne' where sometimes Alexa and Francois take their lovely dog, Mishka, for walks. One morning we decided to do just that. We packed a lunch with doggy treats for Mishka and people treats for us and headed out. On the map, the 'Bois de Boulogne' looked like it covered a good-sized chunk of land to the west, so we walked westward (west-ish — we Canadians who are used to a tidy grid system of streets and land tend to get a bit confused with the Parisian method of running streets out from a central circle like spokes on a wheel and where blocks of land tend to be pie shapes instead of good solid rectangles) along Avenue Victor Hugo.

We walked quite a few blocks (wedges) before Marshel began to wonder if we were going in the right direction.

"Of course," I assured him. "It's too big to miss, and we can't get lost anyway, if we stick to Avenue Victor Hugo."

Naturally, it was then that Avenue Victor Hugo suddenly became Rue Henri Martin. "It's okay," I said. "We'll just follow Mishka. She knows the way." (It was later that evening that we found out that while Alexa and Francois did take Mishka often to the park for walks, they always drove her there. What Mishka knows is the way to the car.) However we did eventually get there.

While driving in Paris is an eye-opener, being a pedestrian is an adventure all its own. There are, of course, traffic lights, but as I've mentioned, people rarely pay much attention to them. And when you are a pedestrian it doesn't matter if you watch the traffic lights anyway because they are unsynchronized. Meaning, if traffic has the red light, going one direction and they have to stop (maybe), the vehicles going the other way don't necessarily have a red light at the same time. So if it's okay to cross the street, often it's okay just to cross half way and you can be legitimately mowed down on the other side. But by this time I had figured out the system. You stand at the side of the road until you have assembled enough people that you think you could pick up one of their funny little Mr. Bean cars and chuck it in the Seine. Then having reached 'critical mass' you suddenly charge across the street with no warning, forcing the vehicles to either stop or get off the street onto the sidewalk (or off the sidewalk, onto the street, if they happen to already be on the sidewalk).

When we finally got to the park, we found many people there, walking their dogs. Everybody let their dogs run free, and Mishka tried to persuade us to let her off the leash also. But Mishka mostly speaks French and we mostly don't, so we couldn't let her loose. Not that she didn't listen to us. Marshel had learned to say, "Assis, Mishka!" and mostly Mishka sat. I had learned to say, "Ne mange pas les petit chiens, Mishka!" and although many of the little mutts would have been a mere potato chip to Mishka she refrained from snacking on them.

The bushes around the park were in full bloom and the trees were beginning to leaf out, so although the day was gray and overcast, it was still warm and a lovely day for a walk in the park.

That afternoon when Alexis and Francois' daughter Nathalie came home from school, she asked, "What's the matter with Mishka? She's just lying there like she's exhausted!"

We would have answered her, but we were just lying there like we were exhausted.

The next day, having done our quota of walking for awhile, we again travelled the Metro. This time we went to 'Montmartre,' where the onion-domed 'Basilique du Sacre Coeur' stands, looking down on the city. We took a funicular railway to the top of the hill. There is a great view of Paris from the steps of the basilica and we took pictures and fed the birds. For a few francs an odd little man would give you a hunk of bread and whistle up some birds for you to feed. The birds (mostly sparrows) would fly down and eat from your hand, their sharp little claws scrabbling to hang on to your fingers. We had lunch in a restaurant that looked old enough to have been there when the likes of Van Gogh, Toulouse-Lautrec, and Rodin hung out in those parts. We had salads that were served with, oddly enough, the largest soup spoons I have ever seen.

Back at the apartment that afternoon, we went to one of the large, incredible markets to shop for supper. We finally bought some of that white asparagus we had been seeing everywhere — very tasty, though not really different from our own plain old green asparagus. After shopping, we sneaked into a Macdonald's restaurant and had caramel sundaes. In a country of exquisite desserts, the treats were our guilty little secret.

FARMERS HELP STARS — Proceeds from a fun night jointly sponsored by Alberta Wheat Pool and Dupont Chemicals for farmers in the St. Paul, Elk Point and Bonnyville areas were presented to STARS Air Ambulance recently. STARS volunteer Victor Chrapko accepted the $547.20 cheque from John Wozniak of Alberta Wheat Pool. Both Wozniak and Chrapko have had family members transported to Edmonton by STARS and feel this is a very worthy cause to support. From 1991 to the end of 1997, a total of 19 STARS missions have originated in St. Paul and district, five in the Elk Point area and 12 in Two Hills and district.

Nutrition Notes

By Shelley Miller-Hertes, RD
Elk Point Health Centre

There are 13 different vitamins. They are classified as either water soluble or fat soluble. Water soluble vitamins are not stored by the body. Tissues take in the water soluble vitamins and any excess is excreted in the urine. Fat soluble vitamins are stored, primarily in the liver and excessive intakes are not excreted in the urine.

If you eat food from all food groups you can obtain all your vitamins directly from the food you eat. If you cannot eat a specific group of foods that supply a particular vitamin, you may need to supplement your diet with that vitamin. You should consult a dietician or your physician prior to taking extra vitamins. They can advise you as to whether you really need to supplement your diet.

The following table lists each vitamin and the foods you find it in:

Water Soluble Vitamins

Thiamine (B1) — Liver, pork, meat, wheat germ, whole grains, enriched breads and cereals, legumes, nuts.

Riboflavin (B2) — Milk and milk products,

Vitamins in food

liver, enriched bread and cereals.

Niacin (B3) — Liver, poultry, fish, peanut butter, legumes, mushrooms.

Pyridoxine (B6) — Liver, herring, salmon, wheat germ, whole grains, meats, legumes, bananas.

Cobalamin (B12) — Foods of animal origin, fermented yeasts, fortified soy products, eggs.

Biotin — Organ meats, mushrooms, legumes.

Pantothenic Acid — Eggs, liver, wheat bran, peanuts, legumes, meat, spinach, other vegetables.

Folic Acid (Folacin) — Liver, wheat bran, whole grains, spinach and other dark green leafy vegetables, legumes, nuts.

Vitamin C — Citrus fruits, strawberries, cantaloupe, tomatoes, broccoli, potatoes, cabbage, sweet peppers.

Fat Soluble Vitamins

Vitamin A — Liver, egg yolk, dairy products, yellow vegetables, apricots, cantaloupe.

Vitamin D — Fortified milk and dairy products, cereals, eggs.

Vitamin E — Wheat germ, vegetable oils.

Class of '98 'Up where they belong'

momento for each of the graduands, and urged them to "always remember your roots. They will help you to make the right decisions on the road to success."

Heinsburg student Terry Parenteau saluted the Class of '98 with a very apt vocal solo, "Time of Your Life."

Travis Bowman gave the Class Address, stating that "It is now time to face the world. Let us take the key our parents have given us and open the door to the future, and strive for the top."

Charlie Thomson offered congratulations from the Heinsburg community, and presented gifts to each member of the class.

Guest speaker was Shannon Leskiw, who three years ago was "Mr. Social Studies, Bachelor at Large" in Heinsburg, and who is now engaged and teaching Grade 5 at Glen Avon School, St. Paul. His former Grade 9 students are now "Seven lovely people, all grown up," but he remembered them well, and peppered his address with reminiscences of his days in Heinsburg with them. He offered words of encouragement, and said "Don't ever give up. When one door slams shut, open another one."

Greetings from the School Boards were brought by Lorne Dustow of Fishing Lake, who also congratulated the parents "on getting them to finish school," and from Ray Danyluk of St. Paul Regional Division, who said "You are up where you belong, up in front of us," and urged the class to "be focused on your goals."

Lorne Young brought greetings from the School Council on behalf of Darrell Youngmans, and said how important it is for the parents to be involved in their children's education.

Graduand Shaun Anderson and Trevor Durocher presented gifts to Kirsten Sanders, Terry Parenteau, Mr. Leskiw, Mrs. Bintz, Cathy Botting and Sandra Bishop for their involvement in the farewell ceremonies. Mrs. Bishop told the graduands "You are surrounded by people who love you. Beyond school, seek to surround yourself with people who care about you."

Principal Lorne Young had the traditional last word, asking for a round of applause for Marie Zayac, who organized the decorating crew. He spoke on fate and chance, and the roles these play in our lives. "Wherever you go, fate will play a part. Face it, confront it, deal with it in the most positive way you know how." His closing advice was to "Take time to care about each other."

The ceremonies closed with a solo, "Strawberry," by Terry Parenteau, with a dance rounding out the evening.

win the Lakeland Tirecraft trophy.

Taralee Babenek's three-year-old, "Sue," with calf at foot, won the Cow-Calf Class and the Toronto Dominion Bank award, going on to win the Reserve Champion Banner from Banana Hill Farms in the Supreme Female class. James Babenek showed the Reserve Champion Cow-Calf pair for a trophy from CJ Petroleum. A total of nine heifers and five cow-calf pairs were shown.

Taralee also won the Herd Class, with her yearling, two-year-old cow-calf pair and three-year-old cow-calf pair, winning a trophy sponsored by George and Diana Anderson, while James showed the Reserve Champion herd for the L7R Limousins trophy.

The 4-H showmen and women also got to do a little judging of their own, with James Babenek first in the Senior Judging division for the Lloydminster Heavy Crude award, Peter Danyluk second for a trophy sponsored by Ed's Metal Buildings, Kyle Kurek winning the Junior Judging and a trophy from Cal's Home Hardware and Mark Ference second for another trophy from Ed's Metal Buildings.

Showmanship is always a very important part of 4-H competition, and this show was no exception. Peter Danyluk was named first in Senior Showmanship and his brother George first in the Junior class, both winning the Clayton Orr Memorial Halters, while Amanda Wirsta was second in Senior and Jaylynn Wirsta second in Junior for the Mountain View Farm trophies.

Nichole Havener's steer, with 3.57 pounds per day to his credit, won the Rate of Gain class and a trophy from St. Paul Seed Cleaning Plant, while Amanda Wirsta's steer was a close second at 3.31 pounds per day for a trophy from Champion Technologies.

Conformation was judged by a father and daughter team, Myron and Patricia Kozak of Round Hill, while Tammy Young was the Grooming and Showmanship judge.

Four former members of the Elk Point 4-H Multi Club were part of the show this year. Donna Ockerman of Lindbergh was a very efficient Mistress of Ceremonies and kept the show moving smoothly, while the Ringmaster was Tim Havener. Ken Ference, who is the club's Steer Project leader, was the main organizer of the show, while Patsy Wirsta is his assistant leader.

The club's General Leader is Lorraine Danyluk, who has Elaine Babenek as her assistant, while Ed Babenek is the Heifer Project leader, with Lee Wruth as his assistant. Weighmasters were Bernard Boeckmann and Ed Zarowny, with Linda Kurek keeping track of the weights. Terry Holmgren took care of the judging cards. Amanda Zapesocki led the 4-H pledge

Memorial service planned

Elk Point United Church will hold a memorial service for the families whose loved ones have been laid to rest since January, 1997 from the Elk Point United Church. Families and friends of those who have passed away during that time are invited to attend.

The candle-lighting service is planned for 10 a.m. on Sunday, June 14 and will be followed by a potluck lunch.

Elk Point 4-H Saddle Slickers keeping busy

We've been busy since our last article in the paper. On April 4 we had a presentation by Dennis Hobman on hoof care. We received some excellent information. On April 18, we had a riding meeting and a presentation by Ruth Isley on physiotherapy. She taught us about certain muscle spots to help our horses, which was again very good advice and we enjoyed it. On April 27 we had our 4-H meeting at F. G. Miller. We talked about highway cleanup, the Mel Hyland clinic and our poker rally.

On May 2, we had our highway cleanup, pretty much everyone came to help and we finished in record time. Afterwards we enjoyed hot dogs at Stoney Lake.

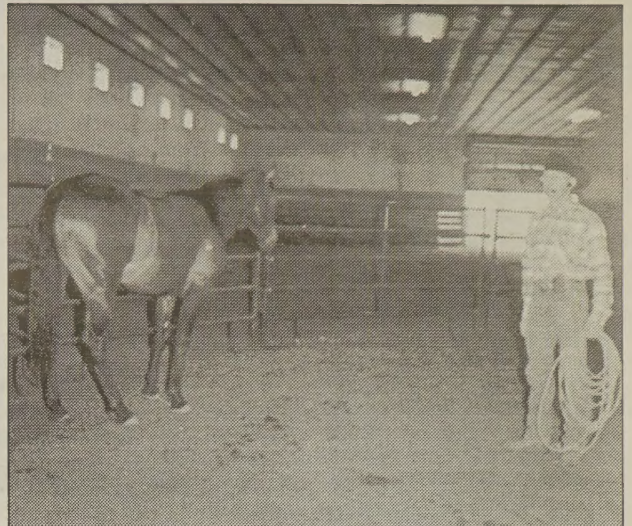

On May 21, 22, 23 and 24 we had our Mel Hyland round penning and horsemanship clinic. It was a great clinic, which we all enjoyed and learned a lot. Everyone was exhausted and dirty when we were done. May 25 was our regular meeting at F. G. Miller. We discussed 4-H Expo at Lloydminster on May 30 and 31. Also our poker rally is set for June 27, and we will be riding by Lea Park.

Achievement Day is coming soon and we will be having some practice dates in June. On June 14, we will have our fun day at Lea Park, set up by Joyce Larson.

The year has sped by, we have had a lot of fun and done so many different things. The next report will be the last for the year.

LEARNING HORSEMANSHIP — Members took part in the Mel Hyland round penning and horsemanship clinic last weekend. Sponsors were Pan Canadian, ReMax and Noralta. This was an excellent three days of fun and information.

The Elk Point REVIEW

Elk Point girls win SPAA senior ball

The battle for the 1998 St. Paul Athletic Association senior fastball championships saw the traditional rivals, St. Paul Regional High School and F. G. Miller High School, Elk Point, go head to head in both boys' and girls' finals at the Elk Point Recreation Park.

Senior Girls

It took just one inning for F. G. Miller Crusaders to win the Senior Girls SPAA Fastball banner... but what an inning it was!

Elk Point, with a dismal start in the third game of their best-of-three championship series against Regional High School, were down 6-0 at the bottom of the fourth inning when the game took a whole new turn. The Crusaders pounded in fifteen runs in rapid succession in an extra long inning to take an encouraging 15-6 lead. St. Paul racked up five more runs in the balance of the game, but couldn't manage to catch their eastern rivals. Krystal Yake topped the Crusaders' scoring with five runs during the day.

Senior Boys

St. Paul Regional took a early lead in the final, with the score sitting a 9-1 in their favor at the bottom of the second inning. Elk Point narrowed the score by bringing in seven runs in the third, while Regional brought in four. Two more for F. G. Miller and a scoreless inning for Regional brought it to 13-10 for Regional at the bottom of the fourth.

Three FGM players made successful circuits of the diamond before pitcher Justin Malachowski hit a homer to bring Elk Point into the lead. Six more runs before they headed back out into the field gave the home team a 20-13 margin.

St. Paul had already added two runs to the scoreboard when Ryan Yopyk hit a bases-loaded homer to bring Regional back on course. Four more runs brought them a 23-20 lead by the end of the inning, with that score holding firm through the remainder of the game to give St. Paul the SPAA banner.

Regional's coach, Bob Palinka, called it a "great game. It was very close — either team could have won." The pitchers, with four games under their belts by the close of the day, "were very tired. Elk Point's pitcher did it all on his own. You've really got to hand it to him."

Ashmont, Heinsburg, Frog Lake and Mallaig also competed in the Senior Boys tourney.

Car show this Saturday

If you love classic cars, Elk Point is the place to be this Saturday as the Elk Point Auto Club presents their annual Car Show. The show is slated for noon to 4 p.m. on Main Street, with registration for entries starting at 9 a.m. Several out-of-town exhibitors are expected, so the show should be another big success.

Make sure you come on down and see all the great cars, and enjoy the sidewalk sales downtown as well.

Elk Point ball teams are looking good!

By Doug Bassett
Sports News Hound

Thirty one days in May and not one drop of rain! Not one rained-out ball game. Quite a change from last year at this time when it seemed like the rain would never stop, and we even played a lot of games in the drizzle, just to play. It's great baseball weather, but not so great for our farmer friends. I've tried everything to make it rain, watered the lawn, washed the car, I even left my shoes outside. (I take that back, it's Sunday night and raining right now outside my window.)

All of our Elk Point ball teams were busy this past weekend with mini tournaments in Elk Point, St. Paul, Cold Lake and Vermilion.

The Mosquitoes boys after winning their first team this season against Bonnyville on Tuesday night, improved their record when they travelled to Cold Lake on Saturday, beating the host team 15 to 4 in their first game, then losing a close one to Goodfish in the second game of the mini round robin. Coach Darrel Wickham said "This team has a lot of young players that are really starting to improve their play in the infield, and on base running."

Over in St. Paul on Saturday, Rick Bilak's Peewee boys, with Jonathan Bury and Jason Kalynchuk on the mound defeated Cold Lake #1, 7 to 6. In their second game against Cold Lake #2, Isaac Peters, after pitching the full game, lost a close one 3 to 0.

The Bantam girls were at home on Sunday, winning over Bonnyville in their first game, then losing to the tough team from Cold Lake. Great pitching by Tori Warawa, Leanne Wilson and Joanne deMoissac.

Down in Vermilion on Sunday the Bantam boys took first place in a tournament winning over Vermilion #1 and #2 teams and a team from Lloydminster. Great pitching by Cory Henderson who went the full distance in the first game.

With five regular players busy on Sunday, and the Bantam boys in the tournament in Vermilion, the Midget Sox were forced to call some veteran players out of retirement. In the lineup, Loren Kozicky, Marty Bendixen and B.J. Tucker answered the call, and although they would not be allowed to play in provincials, the league allows overage players, as long as they don't pitch or catch. The Sox faced a tough pitcher from the Bonnyville "AA" team in the first game and only managed three hits and one run. Getting serious in the second game of the twin bill, with Tyler Warawa chucking the ball, and the boys' bats making contact, the Sox won in five innings by 10 runs and split the double header...

If you have some sports news you want to report, five me a call.

Track Stars

This week we are bringing you some local talent, from the North East Track Club. Three weeks ago, Travis Lindquist and Brian Whiffen-Peters burned up the competition down in Lethbridge. Travis placed first overall in the Peewee combined events of 100 m, shot put and long jump. Brian placed fifth overall. This past weekend in St. Albert, Travis won two golds for the Peewee triathlon, Brian won a bronze and Amy Miller won two golds in the Peewee girls triathlon. Julie Whiffen-Peters, whose proud parents Tony and Jackie are celebrating their anniversary today, is doing very well in track and field also, and qualified for zones in the long jump, triple jump and the 4 x 100 relay, which will be held in Fort McMurray on June 5.

Tidbits

What you are about to read is true, even the names have not been changed!

One of my loyal readers, Gillian Cousins, who always has some comments, thinks that my baseball stories are a little dry, and told me that my hockey stories are much funnier. So I thought, I better do something about this before my ratings drop and I lose my endorsements and get stuck on the back page with the 'help wanted' ads. Well, I told her, what do you expect, baseball is a serious game, it's not like hockey, with NHL teams like the Leafs and Flames, or those other mickey Mouse teams from town, the Broncos and the Lindbergh Last Laughs, trying to play hockey, or is that golf?

And while we're on the subject of golf, I hear that Gillian's husband, Dave, who recently won the Minor Hockey Coach of the Year award, is quite the golfer. Last week he was on the range driving his ball when it bounced off a tree and right back, hitting him in some not so funny spot. And here's another little tidbit I heard on the rumor mill downtown. Rumor has it that Gillian was at Cal's Hardware and ordered a 12" chain saw for Father's Day, so Dave could pack it in his golf bag. You'd better stick to coaching, Dave!

Player of the Week

JORDAN BASSETT

Birthday: July 20, 1981

Age: 16

Height: 5'10"

Weight: 190 lbs.

Nickname: Buhner

Position: 3rd Base, Outfield

Favorite player:

Mark McGwire

With a batting average of .487, the team's best power hitter, Jordan has never been intimidated by pitchers, and in fact challenges them. Many pitchers have thrown the fastball down the pipe, and have regretted it as they watch the ball sail deep out of the park by the Sox' leader in home runs. Usually playing third base, Jordan has a strong arm to make the 134' play to first. A good base stealer who's not afraid to get his uniform dirty, Buhner has the best face-first slide in the business.

ROADSIDE SPRAYING PROGRAM

The County of St. Paul No. 19 Agricultural Service Board will be starting their 1998 Roadside Spraying Program in the month of June. This program is in place to control the spread of Noxious Weeds along the Municipal road allowances.

If for any reason you do not want the road allowance along your property sprayed, you must contact the County Office at 645-3301 and also post the areas that you do not want sprayed far enough in advance, so that the operators have enough time to shut down their equipment. "Do Not Spray" signs are available at the County Office.

Ratepayers that do not want their road allowance sprayed, will be held responsible for the control of all Noxious Weeds within that area.

Road allowances along sensitive crops will not be sprayed until a later date.

For more information, contact Dennis or Larry at 645-3301.

What's news at the library?

Young Reader's Choice announced, 1999 nominees now arriving

By Michele Ducek
Librarian

The winners of the 1998 Young Reader's Choice Award have been announced, and once again, my personal choices lost out. In the Junior Division, Wayside School Gets a Little Stranger by Louis Sachar got the nod while The Midwife's Apprentice by Karen Kushman gets the prize in the Senior Division. My own choices were Mick Harte was Here by Barbara Park in the Junior Division and The Road Home by Ellen Emerson White in the Senior Division. You can check out all of these title in our juvenile fiction section.

We have also received some of the 1999 nominees for the Young Reader's Choice Award. I have read the ones that just came in and there are some standouts. If you are interested in participating in next year's award, talk to Michele at the library. Here are some of the nominated titles you may want to try out:

Gary Paulsen returns to the story of his award-winning Hatchet only this time Brian Robeson isn't rescued and is left to face the winter alone in the Canadian wilderness in Brian's Winter. A very good look at survival in the wilder-

In his sophomore year, Steve is on the top of the world. By his senior year he is close to flunking out. Find out what happened in Rats Saw God by Rob Thomas. I really enjoyed this one.

Harper Winslow has been ordered by a judge to write a 2000 word essay on how he is going to turn his life around so his mother enrolls him in a writing class that turns out to be not quite what she expected in The Tuesday Cafe by Don Trembath. The author lives near Edmonton.

The latest in Adult fiction:

There is a vigilante loose in Sacramento dressed in a carbon-filament bodysuit that can instantly harden into stronger-than-steel protective armor in The Tin Man by Dale Brown.

In England in 1193 a destitute young man falls heir to a bloodstained letter that becomes his passport into Eleanor of Aquitaine's confidence and into the heart of danger in The Queen's Man by Sharon Kay Penman.

The evil Mohdri has dispatched his dread Black Rose commando assassins to capture Elora Danan and her sworn protector, Thorn Drumheller and the only hope is a journey to a distant land undisturbed since the dawn of time in Shadow Dawn by Chris Claremont and George Lucas. The sequel to Shadow Moon.

And for you nonfiction fans: One of the most popular topics of conversation this winter has been the weather. Now you can amaze your friends and astound your family by coming up with all sorts of interesting and fun facts about the weather by taking a loot at Blame it on the Weather: Strange Canadian Weather Facts by David Phillips.

Water Safety Week promotes safe summer fun

By the Canadian Red Cross

With warm weather approaching, many Canadians are preparing for a summer at the lake, by the pool or on the boat. This is the perfect time of year to start thinking about water safety.

According to Canadian Red

Cross drowning statistics, approximately 40 percent of drowning accidents are boating-related. Most drowning victims were found not wearing a properly-fitted flotation device.

The easiest and safest way to prevent water-related injuries, particularly drowning, is proper use of a personal flotation device (PFD) or life jacket.

This summer, as you head for the water, try and keep the following safety tips in mind:

* PFDs help prevent drowning and should be worn by children when they are in, on and around water.

* PFDs are never a substitute for adult supervision.

* Children learn best from example. When boating, parents should always wear their PFDs too!

When selecting a PFD, it is important to check for a snug, comfortable fit. And remember, a brightly colored PFD not only looks cool, it also increases your visibility in the water.

* Don't forget to try it out. In shallow water, try on your PFD, lift your feet up and put your head back. Make sure that your chin is above water and you can breathe easily when you are floating.

To raise awareness of water safety and promote the safe use of PFDs, the Canadian Red Cross is declaring May 30 to June 7 Water Safety Week in partnership with the Canadian Tire Child Protection Foundation.

"Drowning and water-related accidents can be very easily prevented if people think safety first," says Bev Clark, National Coordinator, Water Safety Services for the Canadian Red Cross. "It only takes seconds to put on a PFD."

Three honored for Red Cross service

Three Elk Point and district residents were among those honored for outstanding and lengthy service at a special Red Cross Awards Night, May 8 in Edmonton. All three recipients have over 50 years of service with the Red Cross.

The Order of Red Cross was presented to Margaret Modin for her part in establishing the early Red Cross Region in Elk Point and for her efforts on boards at the Provincial level. Her ongoing interest in the Spring Canvass and the quilting club were also recognized.

One of two Distinguished Service Awards went to Violet McFadyen, for 25 years as President of the Elk Point Branch and 10 years as Campaign Chairperson. Mrs. McFadyen has an ongoing interest in the quilting club as well. Both she and Mrs. Modin have been members of the Red Cross since their school days, when they were part of the Junior Red Cross.

The second Distinguished Service Award was presented to Horace Osinchuk of Clandonald, who has canvassed a large area single-handedly for over 50 years. He has shown a keen, ongoing interest in the Red Cross organization.

Congratulations to these three very worthy individuals on their receipt of these awards, and many thanks for their ongoing efforts with the Red Cross.
